Abstract:
The Curtin AHEAD team incorporate innovative teaching methods, and interactive technological solutions, into the variety of engagement activities we run with our partner school groups.

Through the use of quiz based technology like Kahoot, the AHEAD team have found an innovative method to engage with students in a fun and engaging way. The majority of the students we interact with come from backgrounds and community groups traditionally not represented in higher education and the use of such technology has proven to enhance learning outcomes and student engagement.
